

Bruce E. Cooper Student Center

Goal: $10 million

At the heart of every great college campus is a vibrant student center. For decades, students at HACC, Central Pennsylvania's Community College, have looked to the Bruce E. Cooper Student Center as a gathering space that enriches the academic experience, provides social offerings and extends the College atmosphere beyond the walls of the classroom. HACC recognizes and embraces the critical role of a robust on-campus destination that helps students to succeed inside and outside of the classroom.

The Bruce E. Cooper Student Center was built in 1964 to serve up to 7,500 students. By 2015, the number of students enrolled at HACC was approaching 10,000, stressing the ability of the existing Center to provide necessary services to students. In 2016, HACC decided to make a significant investment in the future of the College and its students by undertaking a total renovation of the Bruce E. Cooper Student Center.

The newly renovated Bruce E. Cooper Student Center has been transformed into an attractive, modern facility that has enhanced the student experience and become the epicenter of a dynamic campus community. In order to maximize the benefit for students and most effectively serve them, the Bruce E. Cooper Student Center is now a "one-stop" destination that is driving student success.
